Today

Mr. Taft, 3 Score and 10.
A New Ford Empire.
Milburn Conquers Age.
Wall St. Wild and Gay.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(The opinions expressed in this column are those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in accordance with the policies of the Review-Tribune.)

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT spent his seventieth birthday with his family in Quebec. He is a good American, a just and learned judge, a good natured man liked by more than a hundred millions of his fellow citizens.
If, like Theodore Roosevelt, he had given all his thoughts and good ideas direct to the people, instead of telling them to friends only, he would not have been beaten for president the second time.

The London Evening News got excited yesterday and used a seven-column headline on the news that "Henry Ford plans to spend $40,000,000 on a rubber empire," to compete with the present British monopoly on rubber. Henry Ford, it is alleged, will extend his land holdings in rich rubber land of Para to 2,800,000 acres. That will amuse Ford. He is busy with things nearer home than Para.

Americans beat the British at polo, easily the first game, less easily the second. Three of the four American players are past 40 years of age. Milburn, the captain, backbone and key stone of the team, is 45, born in 1881.
That American is nearly 50 years of age, playing the hardest, most exhausting, dangerous game, can beat younger men, the pick of Great Britain, is more important to the country than any athletic victory. The British can find consolation in Milburn's victory, for John Milburn, his father, was born in England.

Wild, gay times in Wall Street yesterday, poor bears wondering if higher and higher prices will go on worrying them forever. General Motors, which some poor geese were selling recently at 225 "for a quick turn," closed at 267. They got the quick turn.

United States Steel went up four points to 159. Call money dropped to 3 1/2 per cent, many stocks "went wild," spouting up new high prices, and so forth and so on. But don't gamble, you can't win at that.

Chicago's hot wave, having killed several, traveled eastward to New York, creating a September 15 high weather record for all time in the big city. New York has complained for months of too little sunshine and too much of too much of it and now hot. It has been a queer season in many parts of the world, sun spots perhaps.

Or it may be the new "etheron," so small it makes an atom look like a mountain, traveling nearly 100,000 miles an hour.

He inherited his business ability from his father under whom he served for a period when the latter managed the Akron China company at Akron. Later he returned to East Liverpool and served in the office of the Murphy Pottery company at the foot of Union street until the plant was destroyed by fire.

He then became associated with the Dollar Savings bank, beginning with the institution while it was initially located at Sixth and Broadway.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mabel McDougle, early in June of 1926.

For years he had been a member of the First Presbyterian church. He was a member of Riddle lodge, No. 315, F. & A. Masons, Crystal chapter, No. 10, Kermans Council No. 95, and of the Odd Fellows.

Burns All Bridges Behind Him, But Feud With Smith Goes On

"I Shall Not be Candidate for Democratic Presidential Nomination," he Says in Letter to George F. Milton, Publisher of Chattanooga News, His Publicity Manager in 1924.

HE WILL CONTINUE TO FIGHT FOR SUPPRESSION OF NULLIFICATIONISTS

Desire to Free Party From Repetition of Disastrous 1924 Fight in Madison Square Garden is Advanced as One of Ex-cabinet Member's Chief Reasons for Retiring.

By Kenneth Clark.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—William Gibbs McAdoo announced today he would not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

He burned all his bridges behind him when he said definitely: "I shall not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928."

His refusal to enter the race was contained in a letter to George F. Milton, publisher of the Chattanooga News. Milton, publicity manager for McAdoo in 1924, had urged him to be a candidate again.

At the same time, McAdoo served notice that his political feud with Governor Al Smith of New York, which deadlocked the Democrats in the sweltering heat of Madison Square Garden in 1924, is far from ended. He said he would continue to fight for the triumph of progressive principles in the party, and for the suppression of the nullificationists, or the wets.

Warns Against Repetition of 1924 Fight.
A desire to free the party from a repetition of the disastrous 1924 fight, was advanced by McAdoo as one of his chief reasons for retiring. He said also that he had earned a respite, "an honorable discharge," from the rigors of active political life.

He warned the party that defeat lay ahead in 1928 if the next convention degenerated "into a mere struggle of individuals for personal preference at the expense of principles and policies of fundamental importance to party character and to the welfare of the nation."

"My chief concern," he said, "is the supremacy of Democratic principles and progressive policies; for these mean the preservation, unimpaired, of the constitution of the United States; the suppression of nullification and the enforcement of law, without which stable government is impossible and without which the blessings of liberty will disappear; justice to agriculture, without which the farmers cannot get their rightful share of national prosperity; and social and economic justice for all classes, without which human opportunity cannot be widened."

Avoid Religious Issue, He Says.
"Perhaps I can do more to advance these objects as a private citizen than as a candidate for the presidency. I prefer to stand aside in order that the field may be left clear, so far as I can clear it, for the development of a leadership that can more effectively gain these ends."

Indirectly, he advised the party to avoid the injection of the religious issue into the next campaign.

"In 1924 I entered the campaign because it was urged upon me that the progressive element of the party relied upon me for leadership," he explained. "You know how that campaign was rendered abortive by the unfortunate injection, against my opposition, of the false religious issue into the Democratic national convention."

The 1924 convention was broken wide open by a Klan and anti-Klan fight. It prevented any reconciliation between the factions represented by

A fourth less corn than last year will be produced in Ohio this year if present crop prospects are fulfilled at harvest time. For the nation as a whole, the 1927 corn crop gives promise of being 10 per cent less than the crop of 1926.

It is said 90 million people listen to radio broadcasting daily. What goes out over the radio becomes increasingly important. Wireless has immense possibilities for inspiration and instruction. Its possibilities reach far beyond the entertainment field. Like other inventions, faddish at first, radio is developing from a novelty to a necessity.

Dr. W. J. Hickson, head of the city psychopathic laboratories in Chicago, says gunmen of the future may be sentenced to two drops of gland medicine instead of two years. Bear Dives to Freedom.
HAMBURG, Germany.—Rather than become a part of a circus a polar bear dived over the rail of a Norwegian ship on its way here and has disappeared.

Strangely enough the bear endured!

the wearisome voyage until the boat docked. Then Bruin crashed the flimsy bars of his cage, leaped out on deck and hurled himself overboard. Before he left the bear visited the kitchen and enjoyed a light meal of fish, probably provisioning himself for his long water jaunt.

Free Fags at Movie.
NEW YORK.—A theater here, which recently changed from plays to pictures, now permits women to smoke in the loges but not in the orchestra seats.

The best part of the new policy.

however, is that the management has instructed ushers to supply women patrons in the loges with free cigarettes. Ushers carry lighters, and at the beckoning of a fair finger hurry up to set the gift smokes aglow.

Plant Work Progressing.
Work is progressing steadily on the new tunnel kiln plant being erected by the Homer Laughlin China company. Operations it is expected will begin about October 15.

Record Apple Crop.
Record breaking apple crop is reported from Brooke county. Orchardists declare that the yield is one of the heaviest in recent years.

Dodge Averages 67.35 miles per hour in Beating All Other Fours in Atlantic City A. A. Race

The Atlantic City (N.J.) Speedway Association, without Dodge Brothers instigation or knowledge, bought a Dodge Brothers Four and entered it in a Labor Day race for Four cylinder stock cars. Four cars of other makes also competed. All were strictly stock cars as required by the rules of the association.

The race was for 25 miles—to determine which was "The Fastest Four in America."

The Dodge won.

Its average speed for the entire race, from a standing start, was 67.35 miles per hour (officially timed by A. A. A.).

Generous confirmation, to say the least, of the modest claim of "Mile-a-minute Performance!"

Even more remarkable than the speed, however, is the fact that the car had been driven only 10 days and yet was able to withstand this difficult test without once stopping.

Thus the race not only offers conclusive proof of the Dodge's superiority in speed, but stands also as a glowing tribute to the rugged materials and excellent workmanship that go to make it—

America's Fastest and Finest Four!

Pittsburgh On Way To Pennant

Although facing 16 more battles in the Heydler circuit, the Pittsburgh Pirates loom as National league pennant winners as a result of their ninth straight victory yesterday, when, for the sixth time in four days the Boston Braves tasted the bitter pill of defeat. Indications are the Bushwhackers will be opponents of the New York Yankees in the 1927 World's series.

Donie Bush's club, determined to give their followers an opportunity to witness their fourth entry in the baseball classic, hopes to clinch the flag during the next seven days. With Boston, always a stonewall to the Pittsburgh players, out of the way, the Pirates will tackle the Brooklyn Robins in a double-header today. A two-ply victory would give them another boost in the percentage column providing the New York Giants, now in second place, divide or lose two games.

The mathematical chances of the boys on Barney Dreyfus' payroll are sized up as follow: If Pittsburgh continues to play .750 ball, which means 12 victories and four losses, during the remainder of the schedule, the National league flag will fly from the pole in Forbes Field, for the Giants would be anchored in second place even though they should win all their remaining games. On the other hand if the Pirates capture 10 out of 16 games, New York would have to win 15 in order to tie, and the Cardinals, in third place, would pass out of the race. And if Pittsburgh plays only .500 ball, winning eight of their remaining 16 clashes, New York would face the almost impossible task of having to win 13 out of 15 to capture the pennant, while St. Louis would have to win 14 out of 15. Even if the Chicago Cubs were victors in all of their remaining 14 games, they would not tie Pittsburgh.

So it looks like a safe bet to place your money on Pittsburgh as the National league representative in October title battles with Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Company.

Sulking Socialists

French Socialists, though somewhat subdued in their animosity to the American Legion, still insist that they are going to boycott the reception planned for the Legion in Paris, and will have nothing to do with entertaining the visitors.

Those Socialists may do anything they like, as long as they refrain from open hostility and abuse of the nation's guests. More abstention from the national welcome will do our doughboys no harm, though knowledge of it may hurt their feels a little. It was not thus when they first went over. The Socialists were as glad of their help as any other class of Frenchmen, when they marched through Paris 10 years ago on their way to the trenches, to take the place of falling Frenchmen. But now, if any Frenchmen think more of two Italians condemned and executed as murderers than they do of two million Americans who went over to save France, let them sulk and nurse their grudge.

It is, however, a curious example of the perversion of human reason.

It may yet occur to those French Socialists that the American soldiers they are snubbing did not kill Sacco and Vanzetti, but did kill France's enemies, and possibly deserve some consideration on that score.

Cheap Loans For Uncle Sam

The United States treasury, asking the public for loans of $500,000,000 needed for temporary financing, was offered $1,670,000,000. When the subscription books were closed the other day, it was found that the $250,000,000 offering of 3 per cent treasury certificates was over-subscribed by $840,000,000.

Evidently the American people still have plenty of cash, and they are as willing to invest it with Uncle Sam as with anybody else. More so, in fact. It would be hard for domestic industry or foreign governments to borrow American money at 3 or 3 1-2 per cent.

It is reassuring, too, to find so much money offered for a sure thing with a low return when the market is full of blue sky securities promising several times that much.

A Trolleyless State

The last street car in Reno has finished its course, and the trolley system there is being scrapped. It is also the last street car in Nevada. Busses have supplanted electric lines over the whole state.

There never were many trolley systems, or very extensive ones, in Nevada. Still, their extinction there is impressive. Is it a warning of the fate in store for street cars throughout the country? Is electric propulsion of public conveyances destined to give place altogether to gas-engine propulsion? Are tracks to vanish in favor of rubber tires? Must fixed transportation lines yield to lightness and flexibility?

Probably not, in big industrial communities. But for small cities everywhere the days of the street railway seem numbered.

When federal taxes are cut to the irreducible minimum, the next thing will be a clamor for public buildings in every district.

We violate no confidence in telling who'll get the worst of it in that Chicago prize fight. The patrons.

Disarmament experts at Geneva never seem to learn from their environment. Look at the navy Switzerland gets along with.

The point of a lot of movie criticism, if we get it straight, is this: American films are so bad that all the world wants them.

I wasn't going to take chances on a small town mayor making me the target for observation of a lot of fool laws. A good many years ago I gave up visiting private homes on account of those lick towels for guests in the bath room, but I decided to take one more chance and see how it pans out.

From the window one can see Tom Mix's trick block long bathing pool which can be emptied instantly in case of gay midnight crack crashes from Hollywood. There is also a view of Buster Keaton's light green palace with a tiling of fancy steps. If his Dad had ever thrown him down there in old vaudeville days there would be no Buster.

They are the sort somehow that make you expect a statueque "Miss Liberty" and the girls representing different states to walk down slowly in costume as they do in musical shows. Nearly all homes here are "show place" affairs with winding roads, terraced lawns and backyard bathing pools.

While the Spanish influence in architecture is pronounced, California has evolved its own—a combination of many blending strikingly. Homes are gay with striped awnings and usually built around a palm fronded patio with a centered rising and falling fountain.

There is the general effect of a Belasco setting. It might be added the most popular citizen in Beverly by odds is the rope-throwing, gum chewing humorist Will Rogers. Beverly, a town of 10,000 is about 30 minutes by motor from Los Angeles while Hollywood is at the city's door.

The Constitution's Birthday.

They too bear rugged pioneering names such as Dutch's, Ike's, The Champ Inn, Red Oscar's, Ptomaine Pete's Tim the Hermit's and Coyote Jake's. California is extremely democratic in mounting stools at lunch-places and carrying trays in the best cafeterias the world has ever produced. You slide your cafeteria tray around on a rail and view the most tempting display of dishes in the world.

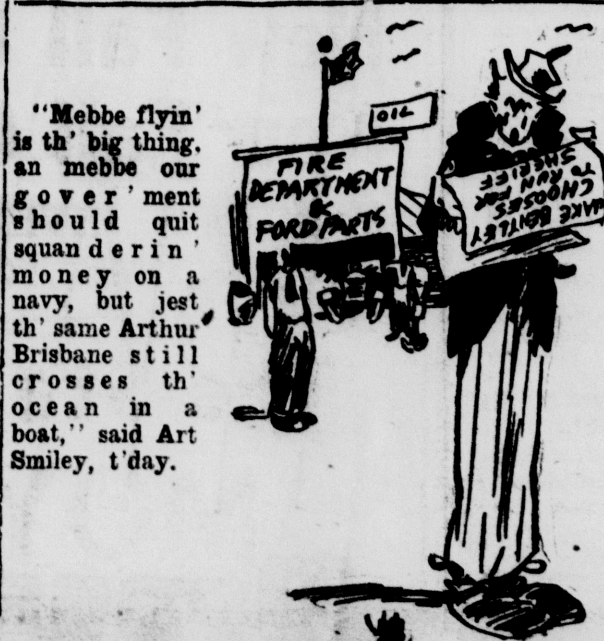

Then there are those trick advertisements. Today a car in front of ours had a big sign lettered on the rear: "Driven By a Blind Man." When you passed the side you saw the advertisement of a window blind and curtain dealer.

And too those odd characters who eddy here from all over the world hoping for a crack at the movies. One is Peter the Hollywood Hermit an old man past 80 with a flowing beard, hair over his shoulders and a half dozen daschunds trailing his heels.

at a given time by the brain and purpose of man," and of which another eminent son of the mother country said, "It ranks above every other written adaptation to the circumstances of the people, the simplicity, brevity and precision in its judicious mixture of definition in principles with elasticity in details.

Monday, September 17, 1787, was a big day in Independence Hall when at least 39 of the delegates signed the draft of the Constitution and the convention could adjourn sine die. It marked the end of a long, tense, and at times bitter struggle, and it meant salvation of the new nation that had been floundering helplessly and almost hopelessly along under the Articles of Confederation. The final triumph was not at hand—almost three years were to pass before the last ratification was secured and the 13 original states were finally reunited under the new Constitution—but it was in sight and the nation's leaders knew that it would come.

Agitation for a new constitutional convention was begun almost before the Articles of Confederation had been put into effect.

Alexander Hamilton urged it in 1780 and two years later the legislature of New York under his leadership unanimously recommended the calling of such a convention. The Continental congress in deferred action, and in June of 1783 George Washington felt impelled to address communications to congress and to the governors of the states in which he advocated the convoking of a constitutional convention "to form a new constitution that will give consistency, stability, and dignity to the Union."

Delegates Ignored Instructions. In July, 1785, the legislature of Massachusetts adopted resolutions calling on congress to recommend a convention to revise the form and power of the government, but the state's delegates in congress disobeyed their instructions and failed to present the resolutions, justifying themselves on the ground that "to seek reform through a convention is a violation of the rights of congress."

However, commerce among the states and foreign trade were in such a mess that something had to be done, and Virginia in January, 1786, invited all the other states to send delegates to a conference to consider the commerce of the whole country. Only five states sent delegates, but the conference then issued invitations to a general conference to be held in Philadelphia in May, 1787. That forced the hand of congress which at last called a convention for the same time and place "for the sole and express purpose of revising the Articles of Confederation."

This convention was organized May 25, with the unanimous election of Washington as president. Seventy-three delegates are known to have been appointed to the convention, but only 55 attended. All of the states except Rhode Island were represented, New Hampshire delegates not making their appearance, however, until July 25.

At the outset the convention was divided between those who hoped to draw up an entirely new scheme of government and those who insisted on merely amending the Articles of Confederation. Between these divergent groups was a group of compromisers. Later other combinations were effected and there was a clash between the large states and the small states, and another between the North and the South, or between the commercial and the agricultural states. It appeared almost an impossible task to harmonize all these conflicting interests and ideas.

As soon as the convention was ready for business the Virginia plan of organizing and running the government, believed to have been drawn in the main by Madison, was presented by Randolph. Later the so-called Pinckney plan made its appearance. Then the Virginia plan, with amendments, was reported favorably to the convention, and that precipitated the clash between the large and the small states. It provided for proportional representation in both houses of the new congress that was to have been created, and that would have given Virginia, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts nearly a majority in both houses.

This called forth the New Jersey plan, which would have made no change in the basis of government, and the issue of a national government or a confederation was drawn sharply.

Compromise on Representation. In the end a compromise was effected in the matter of representation

MISS SARAH BAKER BECOMES BRIDE OF RICHARD L. CARSON

Ceremony is Performed in Home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baker in Mannington, W. Va.

Miss Sarah Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baker of Mannington, W. Va., became the bride of Richard L. Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carson of College street, in a pretty ceremony performed yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the bride's home, Rev. Glenn Carpenter of Beaver, Pa., a friend of the young couple, read the Episcopal church marriage service. He was assisted by Rev. Herman Patton, pastor of the First Christian church of Mannington.

An improvised altar concealed with southern smilax, backed with palms and ferns and lighted white cathedral candles in silver holders, formed the setting for the ceremony. An aisle formed of pedestal baskets, filled with summer flowers and linked with festoons of greenery extended from the stairway to the altar. Slender white tapers burned throughout the home, which was decorated with summer flowers.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Eddis Lazear sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Oh, Perfect Love," with Miss Mabel Baker at the piano. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister. The bride, who was accompanied to the altar by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Marian Baker, as maid of honor, and her flower girl was Mabel Louise Helmick, a niece. Lawrence Reese of East Liverpool served as the bridegroom's best man.

The bride wore white chiffon and Chantilly lace. Her long veil of tulle was held in place with a coronet of Rose Point lace and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and feathery ferns. The hat was also pink and her arm bouquet was of sweetheart roses and delphinium. The flower girl's gown was of pale green chiffon. She carried a French basket filled with rose petals and showered them in the path of the bridal party.

THRILLS MARK DESERT VALLEY

Buck Jones Stars in Screen Hit at Strand.

"Desert Valley," which opened a two day run at the Strand, theatre, yesterday, proves one of the best, rip-roaring Western romances in which Buck Jones ever starred. It is an evening's perfect entertainment.

Many thrills result from the humane action of Buck, in the role of Montgomery Wilson Fitzsimith, who breaks a desert water line to save a herd of cattle from perishing of thirst. Throughout the picture can be found comedy of the variety that produces near hysteria, counterbalanced by touches of pathos. Climaxing the interest is a romance that struggles through a blinding sand storm on the desert to a happy conclusion.

Buck gives one of the best charades ("Desert Valley," as the roving but likable cowboy whose only faults are dice playing and an irresistible tendency to take into his own hands the straightening out of other person's affairs.

At the risk of his own safety he rescues the father of the girl he loves from a charge of which he has been wrongly accused. He becomes the benefactor of the cattlemen in the entire "Desert Valley" section, when he prevents their water supply from being cut off. And last but most important to Montgomery, he protects the daughter of Timothy Dean, the cattlemen's leader, from the unwelcome attentions of Jefferson Hoades, who controls the water supply.

Exciting events follow and Buck hesitates to use his fists winning his way.

Virginia Brown Faire effectively plays Mildred Dean, the plucky and adorable daughter-of the cattlemen's leader.

LESSON

How to Prevent Divisions

General Lesson Title—The Kingdom Divided.
Scripture Lesson — 1 Kings 12:1-24 (Verses 12-20 Printed).
Golden Text—Pride goeth before destruction,
And a haughty spirit before a fall.—Prov. 16 18.

1 Kings 12:12-20.
12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehobam the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come to me again the third day.

13 And the king answered the people roughly, and forsook the counsel of the old men which they had given him.

14 And spake to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

15 So the king hearkened not unto the people; for it was a thing brought about of Jehovah, that he might establish his word, which Jehovah spake by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

16 And when all Israel saw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse: to your tents, O Israel! now see to thine own house, David! So Israel departed unto their tents.

17 But as for the children of Israel that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehobam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehobam sent Adoram, who was over the men subject to taskwork; and all Israel stoned him to death with stones. And king Rehobam made speed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem.

19 So Israel rebelled against the house of David unto this day.

20 And it came to pass, when all Israel heard that Jeroboam was returned, that they sent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Israel: there was none that followed the house of David, but the tribe of Judah only.

Refusal of autoists of Port Melbourne, Australia, to obey the "silent cops" made it necessary for the city council to enforce the traffic laws.

That They May Have Life

Sermonette by Rev. B. R. Johnson

Jesus plainly states that the purpose of His coming was that men may have life and have it abundantly. The cry of every living creature is for life, abundant life. The upward urge of the tiny moss, the slender sprout of a forgotten potato in a cellar is only an expression of living things, of a desire to live and expand and grow. We all realize that man is born of woman and in a few days is full of trouble. Death hinders the March of a soul in its upward progress toward accomplishment and success. The greatest work of a man is undone. His best poems unwritten, his greatest music lies locked within the archives of his soul and his imagination, though lofty in its reach, falls before it leads man on to his highest possible achievement.

But man, if he thinks right and serves well, may have made some contribution to the total achievement of the human race which some day will be recognized by a living generation as the finest assembly of human production created by the accumulated genius and labor of the ages. The abundant life that Jesus gives to the world, is not summed up in what one individual receives, but what a number, throughout successive generations, have been able to derive from the spirit of Him who offered life to a dying world. The abundant life is cumulative. It stretches beyond the space of a single generation. It breathes the atmosphere of immortality. It persists when human bodies have returned to dust and the patios they have walked are lost in the multiplied ways of an expanding and growing humanity.

The abundant life is that life generated in the life of the world by the divine spirit of the Son of Man. This life grows with the increase of knowledge, righteousness and obedience to law. The abundant life is coming to possess the race. With its coming there are often revolutions, inconclusiveness, pain. Yet, we know that there is no new life without the giving up of the old, and old life goes not without protest.

The abundant life stirred the hearts of our Pilgrim fathers, caused them to leave the old world with its ancient traditions, its binding customs, its false religions, and come to a new world to dream anew and build that dream into homes, governments and mighty institutions. Throbbing within their bosoms was a hope, out of which sprang a new theory of government, a new place for liberty, a new hope for humanity and finally the realization of the principle of democracy and the right of the common man.

This spirit in giving to the world the abundant life has produced the "Petition of Right," the national anthem of 1628, "Paradise Lost" and the "Grand Remonstrance." It inspired John Bunyan's dream, William Penn's visit to the Indians, the melodies of Handel, the oratorios of Beethoven. This life throbbled in the bosom of the great Lincoln when he penned the proclamation of freedom for the negroes of the south. It has given to the world a new interpretation of art, added philosophy to science and taken cruelty out of the human heart.

This abundant life has reached the shores of China. Its coming heralds a new day for the orient and some day we shall realize that there is neither Jew nor Greek, neither bond nor free. The human race is one but that which keeps it in discordant sects, and divided into racial hatreds is the selfishness of man, whose life is deprived of the larger expression of the abundant life.

Humans must learn to live together and to love one another. God did not make a Russian, a Jew, an American, an Englishman. He made man. Out of one blood have come all the races that dwell upon the face of the earth. The Christ dream was for human brotherhood. His vision included the races, the ages. His abundant life was offered to the world. In the prayers he taught the world no races are mentioned, no territories described. He speaks only of the Kingdom of God. That kingdom is not here nor there, it is everywhere, and especially where the abundant life has taken root in the soil of the human heart.

The abundant life must not only be the possession of the individual, it must possess nations. The world is its field. When it comes in its fullness, strife will pass and a new order in human relationships will be established. Men will think more of service than of profits, more of men than money, more of reverence for God than thought for self. Religion will be expressed in deeds, not creeds. There shall be brotherhood with the abundant life. There shall be freedom and there must be honesty. If this is the goal of Christianity, why not the whole world unite to bring it in?

THE LIFE OF CHRIST

Seeking solitude to commune with God, Jesus then traveled into the wilderness far away from the crowds that were continually near Him.

Here, all alone, He prayed and fasted until He felt able to return to populated places and continue upon His mission on earth.

Returning to Capernaum, He stood before a man, a paralytic who had been brought to Him on a stretcher. "Be of good cheer: thy sins be forgiven thee," Jesus told the invalid.

Withdrawal to the Wilderness

Some scribes that were nearby charged Him with blasphemy for uttering these words, but Jesus further told the invalid to take up his bed and walk. So the crowds refused to listen to the scribes, and instead, stood there to glorify God.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Friday's closing rally in the market favorites was carried over into the short session of the market today, and the initial prices of many of the active stocks showed gains of 1 to 1 1/2 points over the previous close. General Motors, old and new stock, occupied the center of the stage, though good demand was in evidence at the start for the copper stocks and the utilities.

The week-end business surveys were generally favorable. Bank clearings for the week were up 10 to 12 per cent. As compared with the same week of 1926, commodity prices showed a gain and Bradstreet's food index number gained 5 points for the week. The wholesale and distributing channels of trade reported good increases for the week. Washington dispatches indicated the certainty of a tax-reduction program this year. Cotton regained its poise on the promise of the discontinuance of "price forecasts" by the department of agriculture's bureau and the money market outlook was pictured in favorable light.

Trading in General Motors started off with a crash and a bang, with 13,000 shares of the new stock, at 137 to 137 1/2, opening the session for these shares, while the old stock struck its "new objective" at 275, up 1 1/2 above Friday's close. The professionals on the floor of the exchange engaged in a general melee at the General Motors post, and trading was on the huge scale reported in the full sessions of the week.

The powerful pools in Texas Gulf Sulphur, Consolidated Gas and other of the star actors of the week, pushed their favorites forward vigorously in a rapid turnover in the first hour. Texas Gulf Sulphur at 75 sold at the equivalent of 360 for the old stock, completing a gain of nearly 200 points over the past year. Consolidated Gas sold above 121, the highest prices ever recorded for the stock in its present form, and equivalent to 242 for the stock before the last split-up. Further stiffening of the firm metal market was reflected in the copper tone of the copper stocks. American Smelting advanced to above 180, while Maxima established a new high for the year at 40 1/2, and Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, Chile and Inspiration rose a point or more.

Profit-taking in the steel stocks, the rails and the bulk of the fast-moving specialty stocks in the second hour produced an irregular tone in the market as a whole and prices moved downward. United States Steel, Studebaker and other speculative favorites were heavy from the start, and were never able to duplicate their opening prices, which were fractionally above Friday's close.

Gimbel Brothers, in spectacular leadership of the mercantile stocks, jumped seven points to 59 in active trading. Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Woolworth were slightly reactionary. Rails were inactive and dull, with New York Central and Union Pacific reaching moderately higher prices.

SHERIFF WILL "CLEAN UP" CITY

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 17.—In retaliation to a movement by the Steubenville Ministers' association to remove two deputy sheriffs and replace them with two dry agents, Sheriff William T. Allison today called in all his deputies from coal field posts and instructed them to open a campaign against all violators in the city.

"There is nothing wrong with the county but the city under a reform administration needs cleaning up and I'm going to do it," Sheriff Allison said.

The ministers one year ago ousted Mayor John Patton and Chief of Police Blaine Carter for alleged lax law enforcement and now seek to remove two deputies who were appointed for prohibition work but who, they claim, refuse to enforce the dry laws. They ask that dry agents be named in their places.

Improvement of the Lisbon road to the city limits, the contract for which has been let to George B. Patterson, of Wellsville, probably will be completed within two weeks, according to announcement made today by Mayor W. L. Ego.

One of the principal factors entering into the letting of the contract, the mayor said today, was the time element and the local contractor's ability to start the work immediately.

While in reality, Contractor Patterson will require not more than a week, barring unfavorable weather, to lay the top from one end of the job to the other, several days must be spent in preliminary preparations, such as filling in depressions, before the main surfacing job can be started.

Traffic will not be blocked during the surfacing operations, the mayor asserted.

Patterson's bid for material and laying was $1.38 per square yard for amelsite. Other bids were: Marble Cliff Quarries, Columbus, for furnishing only Scioto rock, $9.60 a ton; Charles L. Harris Sons Construction company, Bridgeport, Scioto rock, $9.70 a ton; Colcord Bros., Poland, Scioto rock material and laying, $1.25 per square yard.

Entertains Loyalty Class.
Loyalty class members of the First Presbyterian church were entertained Thursday at the home of Mrs. E. G. Whitacre, Highland avenue, their instructor. Coverdish luncheon was served at noon, covers being laid for 25. Mrs. Harry Whitacre, Miss Lucille McLean and Mrs. Chester Lewis were guests.

GOV. AL SMITH IS SILENT ON WITHDRAWAL OF M'ADOO

EMPIRE STATE CHIEF EVADES SCRIBE QUERY

"I Have Nothing to Say," he Tells Newspaper Man.

REST DISTURBED

Manner Indicates he Has no Interest in Announcement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—"I have nothing to say concerning it," said Governor Alfred E. Smith when asked today to comment upon the announcement of William Gibbs McAdoo, that he would not be a candidate for the presidential nomination next year.

FLETCHER URGES SMITH TO QUIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—"I think Gov. Al Smith ought to follow McAdoo's example and clear the way for a new slate in the Democratic party," Senator Duncan U. Fletcher (D.) of Florida, declared today in commenting on the withdrawal of William Gibbs McAdoo from the 1928 presidential race.

After praising McAdoo's record, Fletcher said: "By retiring from the presidential arena McAdoo has made a generous sacrifice of his own future for harmony in the party. It is in line with his well-known loyalty to the party and his well-known patriotism."

"If Gov. Smith also retires, the Democrats would go to the next convention with harmony restored and with the party ranks united. It may be too early to speak of candidates, but I think the party would do well to consider a harmony ticket, like Walsh, of Montana, for president, and Reed, of Missouri, for vice president."

Governor Smith indicated by his manner, however, that he had no interest whatever in McAdoo's announcement.

The governor smilingly rebuked a reporter who roused him out of bed in his suite at the Biltmore, by sending in word that he had "important" information for him.

He emerged from his bedroom in his bathrobe and regarded his visitor inquiringly.

His face changed expression and he frowned a bit when told the nature of the news.

"Why, I thought you had something important," he rebuked. "You made my heart skip a couple of stops—I thought maybe one of my friends was dead."

The reporter offered to let him read McAdoo's announcement.

He waved the dispatch aside. "I don't want to say a word about it," he reiterated.

He "eased" the reporter out with a shake of the hand and a look that suggested, "don't do anything like this again."

Effect Upon Smith's Chances. WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—William Gibbs McAdoo's announcement that he would not run for the Democratic presidential nomination next year caused no great surprise among the capitol's politicians today but it led to wholesale speculation. It had been anticipated.

The uppermost question was the effect of McAdoo's withdrawal upon the chances of Governor Smith of New York for the nomination. McAdoo and Smith fought it out to a deadlock as the two most formidable candidates. They have personified the wet and dry fight in the party.

Smith's followers were heartened, not so much because Smith would gain in votes by reason of McAdoo being out of the picture, but because of the likelihood of a split among the dry over a candidate. The militant prohibitionists who concentrated behind McAdoo may be divided far and wide, while the wet strength will be solidified behind Smith. Such a situation, Smith's backers declared, would materially enhance the chance of the New York governor in the '28 convention.

Party leaders generally felt that another Madison Square spectacle would be avoided with McAdoo out of it. They said, too, that the same thing would hold true had Smith, instead of McAdoo, withdrawn. They agreed with McAdoo that a repetition of 1924 would be "calamitous" for the party in the next elections. With both Smith and McAdoo at each throats again, the leaders shaw little escape from another deadlocked convention.

Walsh Heir to Strength. McAdoo took cognizance of this situation somewhat when he declared that a personal ambition should be subordinated to progressive principles and policies when the Democrats got around to choosing a candidate.

Another question arose as to who would inherit McAdoo's backing. Offhand, the politicians declared that the permanent chairman of the last convention, seemed the logical heir. He is a dry, a westerner and a leader of the progressive Democrats in the senate. He is strong with McAdoo adherents. McAdoo, however, has many no favorites. Governor Donahoe of Ohio also has followers among the McAdoo group.

The most likely result is that McAdoo's strength will be scattered among a number of candidates with the convention full of favorite son delegations. This would enable the leaders to do a lot of trading on the convention floor.

Ready-made imported suits are becoming popular among smart dressers of Mexico.

IRISH AIRMEN ABANDON ATTEMPT TO SPAN OCEAN FROM EAST

BALLYBUNNION, Ireland, Sept. 17.—No further attempt to span the Atlantic from east to west by airplane, is likely to be made during the remainder of the present year by Capt. R. H. MacIntosh, and Commandant James C. Fitzmaurice, Irish aviators, who failed in such an attempt yesterday, they announced today.

The flyers, exhausted by their long battle with the elements yesterday, awakened late today, hoping to fly their plane, the Princess Xenia, back to Baldonnel flying field, Dublin. They said that, because of the likelihood of adverse weather during the remaining months of this year, any further attempt to fly the Atlantic would be almost hopeless.

DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—The sixth attempt this year to span the Atlantic ocean by air from east to west has met with failure.

Captain Robert MacIntosh, of the British Royal Air force, who started from here yesterday afternoon for New York in the monoplane Princess Xenia, was forced to turn back last night when a 48-mile-an-hour headwind made progress across the ocean impossible.

He brought his plane safely to earth at 7:30 p. m. at Beale Strand, near Ballybunnion, County Kerry, Ireland, after deciding that further attempts to brave adverse weather conditions would be little less than suicide.

Captain MacIntosh, accompanied by Commandant James C. Fitzmaurice, of the Irish Free State Air force, hopped off from Dublin at 1:36 Irish time, Friday afternoon, in spite of the warning of weather forecasters, who predicted they would encounter unfavorable winds and storms over the Atlantic.

The Princess Xenia was sighted at three points on the Irish coast, and on each occasion the plane was bucking terrific winds and squally weather.

In explaining his decision to turn back, Captain MacIntosh stated that the Princess Xenia had been between two and three hours at sea when very heavy weather was encountered. The visibility, the flier stated was very poor, and at times it was necessary to fly as low as 30 feet above the water.

"We found it impossible to steer a true compass course," MacIntosh said, "and we decided to return."

MacIntosh turned back toward the Irish coast, and shortly before 7:30 o'clock made a perfect landing on a level stretch of sand at Ballybunnion. The plane was not damaged.

Captain MacIntosh said the plane had functioned perfectly. Both he and Commandant Fitzmaurice were visibly disheartened by the failure of their plans.

The fliers spent the night at Limerick, Ireland. After an inspection of their plane, they were to return to Dublin later today.

Legion Pays Solemn Homage to Hero Dead

Americans Open Week in France With Memorial Service.

FOCH PRESENT

Reiterate Pledge, "They Have Not Died in Vain."

PARIS, Sept. 17.—Among the hundreds of white crosses, high on Suresnes Hill, which commands a beautiful vista of Paris, the American Legionnaires today inaugurated their week in France, by a solemn tribute to the memory of their comrades who died for France in 1917.

General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the A. E. F.; Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied armies; Howard P. Savage, national commander of the American Legion, and other legion officials, stood in the midst of the field of crosses which represent every rank and every state in the union, and paid their tribute to the American soldiers buried there, by reiterating the late President Harding's pledge made at the ceremony of the burial of America's unknown soldier at Washington:

"They have not died in vain."

A drizzling rain was falling as Marshal Foch and General Pershing walked arm in arm up the slope of the hill, at the top of which lie 1,500 American dead. Accompanying the two war-time commanders were the French generals, Gouraud and De Beny, and the Americans, W. W. Harts and Milton J. Foreman, who commanded the Illinois division during the war, and 600 other Americans and Frenchmen.

The memorial services were brief but impressively simple. Sheldon Whitehouse, councillor of the American embassy, who presided at the services, said:

"It is fitting that the first act of the American Legionnaires upon their arrival in France should be commemorative of their dead. I present a man who needs no introduction to you—General Pershing."

General Pershing then addressed the men who he led in battle ten years ago.

2,264 Vets Arrive. HAVRE, France, Sept. 17.—In a drizzling rain, 2,264 members of the American Legion arrived here today on the liners De Grasse, Tuscania and Caronia, to attend the Paris convention.

Most of the city of Havre was asleep when the vessels arrived at dawn. Ten gendarmes, however, were on duty at the gaily beflagged quays, and they stood at attention while the Legionnaires disembarked.

Children under 15 years of age who have been prohibited from attending Sunday school sessions, will be permitted to return tomorrow.

Regulations banning children from crossing into West Virginia from Ohio have been ordered rescinded except at Huntington.

NOTICE. The next regular meeting of the Ohio State Association of Graduate Nurses, District No. 3, will be held at St. Elizabeth's hospital, Youngstown, Ohio, at 3 o'clock Wednesday, September 21st.

Miss Lorimer, president of the state association will be the speaker. All graduate nurses are invited to attend.

LEVINE MAY HOP TO INDIA TODAY

CRANWELL AIRDROME, SLEAFORD, ENG., Sept. 17.—Charles A. Levine announced shortly after 10 o'clock this morning that his contemplated long-distance flight from England to Karachi, India, may start by noon today.

When all was in readiness for the start, Captain W. R. Hinchcliffe, Levine's pilot, found the engine was not functioning properly. The trouble was repaired, and Hinchcliffe made two unsuccessful attempts to get the plane off the ground. The soggy condition of the runway and the tremendous weight the machine must carry made a take-off difficult.

The contemplated flight will be made in the trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia, in which Levine and Clarence Chamberlin flew from New York to Desau, Germany. Levine and Hinchcliffe hope to break the existing record for long-distance airplane flights.

PARENTS IN JAIL

Strychnine Found in Body of Wife of One Son.

BLAKELY, Ga., Sept. 17.—The bodies of James and Amos Hayes were taken from their graves today in an effort by prosecuting authorities to prove that their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hayes, poisoned them to collect life insurance.

The task was under supervision of Dr. A. J. Ayers, Atlanta pathologist, who will remove the viscera of both bodies and deliver them to Dr. E. L. Everhart, state chemist for analysis, to determine if they contain strychnine in fatal quantities, such as was found in an autopsy on the body of Mrs. Gladys Hayes, of Detroit, wife of Amos.

The parents are held in jail on a warrant charging them with the death by poisoning of Mrs. Gladys Hayes.

The Review-Tribune Offers Booklet On School Lunches

With the opening of the schools comes the problem of the school lunch. Growing children have special needs in the way of food. Even when they eat all of their meals at home, it is no easy matter to see that they are properly fed, and when they eat part of their meals at school the difficulty is far greater.

The question of healthfulness, cleanliness, and attractiveness in the preparation of school lunch are covered in the Government booklet "School Lunches" which this Bureau offers for distribution.

Send for your copy today. Fill out the attached coupon and enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling.

WATER ROUTE IDEAL WAY TO SEE COUNTRY, SAYS RIVER TRADE BOAT OPERATOR ON VISIT HERE

Touring by river is the ideal way to see the country, said Frank Geer, Creston, W. Va., riverman whose houseboat, barge and gasoline boat which were tied up at the Broadway wharf last night after a jaunt from the Little Kanawha river. According to Geer this method of travel is less expensive than the use of an automobile because it is unnecessary to camp at night or to pay for hotel rooms. Geer speaks with authority born of a lifetime of experience in river travel. Two years ago he and his family took a trip down the Ohio and thence up the Green river to Mammoth Cave, Ky. They shelled off one of the houseboats and operated a trading boat which was well patronized by residents of towns along the Ohio and Green river valleys. Prior to starting, the Geers made a trip to East Liverpool to stock up on pottery ware, the entire mileage to Mammoth Cave and return to Creston being 2,700. On that occasion the family rented its home at Creston for the year and lived the entire time on the houseboat, enjoying fine weather and getting off the Ohio in time to escape ice and winter storms. They encountered no snow whatever. Prepare for Spring Trading Trip. Members of the immediate family and some of the grandchildren are making the journey from Creston for next spring's trip up the Little Kanawha as far as Gilmer, 76 miles. That river is usually not navigable during the summer, but since July, rises have been frequent and much freight is being handled, Geer said. It is at Creston that Geer has been engaged in building boats, having constructed 23 since he gave up steamboating. He built the 65-foot boat in which the family is making the present trip. With Mr. and Mrs. Geer on the trip are their son, Frank Geer Jr., and grandchildren, Raymond Geer, of Creston and Leona and Dorothy Jean Soddors of Akron. Wed at Warrenton. The Geers were married nearly 40 years ago at Warrenton where Mrs. Geer, then Miss Leona Porter, resided. Their honeymoon tour lasted for 17 years, consisting of travel in their houseboat home on the Ohio and adjoining rivers. The trip to the Mammoth Cave district was the longest ever taken by the river tourists. They describe the Green river as one of exceptional beauty. Its depth is surprising, reaching 110 feet in places. It passes through the district where the asphalt rock used in street paving is mined. Two rivers from the Mammoth Cave empty into it soon after their emergence from that natural wonder.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Representative Florence P. Kahn, of California, is counted on by big navy-ites in Washington to figure as one of their best fighters at the next session of congress for a strong American sea establishment.

She isn't expected merely to put up a good fight—for a woman—Mrs. Kahn's considered a formidable fighter—for anybody.

When the preparedness group in President Coolidge's own party bolted the chief executive's "waiting policy" as to warship expansion, last winter, with a demand for more real cruisers, instead of cruisers simply "on paper," the outstanding leaders of the insurrection in the house of representatives were Speaker Longworth, Majority Floor Manager Tilson of Connecticut, Chairman Butler of the naval affairs committee, from Pennsylvania, Congresswoman Kahn and Congressman Britton of Illinois.

Of this quintet, Mrs. Kahn wasn't the least influential.

THAT a woman's at a certain disadvantage in the militant ranks, in a clash of this sort, probably can't be denied.

The supposition is, perhaps, that her sex will shrink from the thought of international violence—though there are plenty of authorities who say the truth is quite otherwise—and when one of its representatives takes the preparedness side of the argument, maybe it's more noticeable than it is in a great hulking man, like Longworth, Tilson, Butler or Britton.

Mrs. Kahn, however, lays no claims to extra consideration because she's a woman. All she does claim to count for is just a regular member of congress.

THE California congresswoman, be it understood, denies that she's a militarist. She isn't for war at any price, anyway.

"But if we're to have an army and navy at all," she said, just after the rumors in the house of representatives last session, "I'm in favor of the genuine articles as far as they go—not blueprint ships and tin soldiers."

This, remember, was before the last Geneva armament limitations conference had gone to glory.

If that's the way she felt about it then, the big navy folk are saying among themselves, how much more emphatically must she feel the same way since England's negotiators have refused to put the soft pedal on their warship-building program!

This is a safe bet, to any one who ever talked with Congresswoman Kahn.

LET anybody who imagines that

Mrs. Kahn, of California, being a woman, doesn't know all about law-making and debate and parliamentary tick-tacks and all the congressional ins-and-outs that any politician ever thought of—yes, and armies and navies—let said individual disabuse his mind of any such erroneous idea as promptly as possible.

Mrs. Kahn's husband, the late Julius Kahn, served 24 years in the house of representatives—as chairman of the committee on military affairs, too, a considerable part of it.

All that time his wife was right here with him. She wasn't the kind of a congressman's wife who wasn't interested in her husband's work, either.

Mrs. Kahn can give cards, spades and big and little casino to three-quarters of the big he-congressmen in the capital and beat 'em with her eyes shut.

When the big navy-ites speak of having Congresswoman Kahn on their side next winter, they mean they've got something a lot more substantial than just one vote from the fourth district of California.

AKRON, O., Sept. 17.—Sheriff's deputies who have been working on the $50,000 jewel robbery staged near here late Wednesday, today reported recovery of $10,000 worth of diamond rings stolen from Leonard Heine, New York jewelry salesman, during the robbery.

The gems were found near the place where Heine's ransacked leather bag was located, just south of Johnson's Corners. Conflicting reports were reaching here that the three bandits who staged the robbery had been seen near Wooster and Canton but no definite trace of their flight has been found beyond the spot where the jewels were found.

COLLEEN MOORE AT AMERICAN

"Orchids and Ermine" is Attraction on Monday.

Fashions of the year just opening are a feature of Colleen Moore's newest picture, "Orchids and Ermine," coming to the American theatre on Monday.

Scores of innovations in gowns, wraps and slippers are a part of the story. Director Alfred Santell took particular care during the filming of the picture, however, not to force the fashions on his audience as a show, but to make them a natural part of the production.

"Instead of having just any women wear our gorgeous clothes as minor players, we engaged women who could wear clothes well, and had them outfitted with fashions that will be in vogue a year from now," said Santell.

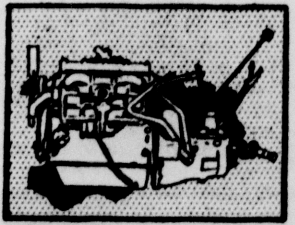

Colleen Moore wears several stunning outfits in "Orchids and Ermine," most of which were designed and made while she was in New York for the filming of the exterior scenes of the story.

Jack Mulhall heads the supporting cast of the picture which John McCormick produced and which First National is releasing. The other supporting players include Sam Hardy, Gwen Lee, Alma Bennett, Hedda Hopper, Kate Price, Jed Prouty, Emily Fitzroy, Caroline Snowden, Yola d'Avril and Brooks Benedict.

Pirates' Win Streak Threatened In Double With Brooklyn

Cubs Licked Three Times By Dodgers

Pair of Hot Battles Carded in Smoke-town Today.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Pittsburgh's winning streak of nine games may suffer a serious relapse today when the Pirates play a double-header with the Brooklyn Robins, who have won three straight from the Cubs. The Corsairs trimmed Boston for the sixth consecutive time yesterday while the Giants broke the deadlock for second place by beating the Cardinals. New York still tails the leaders by 4 1-2 games, however.

Today and tomorrow the Giants play double-headers against the Reds, who are travelling at a fast clip themselves. The Cardinals, meanwhile, have a chance to get back in the running at the expense of the Phillies.

Meadows outpitched Morrison as Pittsburgh downed the Braves, 4 to 3. The Waner brothers, "sprout" and "poison," led the attack. It was Boston's thirteenth straight defeat.

The pitching of Grimes and homers by Lindstrom and Harper enabled the Giants to take the deciding game of the series from the Cards, 6 to 3.

McSweeney outpitched Root as Brooklyn nipped the Cubs again, 4 to 5, sweeping the series. Chicago is now eight games behind the Pirates.

The Yankees staged a double celebration, whipping the White Sox, 7 to 2, for their 10th victory of the season while Babe Ruth clocked his 53rd homer. Ruth is only three behind his 1921 record.

The Athletics, looking the barn door after the pennant has been stolen, made it six straight by defeating the Browns, 6 to 3. Ty Cobb's three singles gave him 13 hits in his last 18 times at bat.

A homer and double by Holman gave the Tigers a 4 to 3 win over the Red Sox. Other teams did not play.

Rights and Lefts From Fight Zone

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Interest today centered around Gene Tunney and his injured optic. Reports from the front state there is no cause for alarm. One of Gene's sparring partners, who shows great promise as a wrestler, got a thumb in the champ's eye during a clinch late yesterday, and for a time the camp of the half-blind Tunney was in a panic. Two specialists were rushed to the scene. They reported the eye, the same that was opened last week by Chuck Wiggins, not badly damaged.

Jack Dempsey entertained last evening at Lincoln fields by dancing through three rounds with as many different sparring mates. Those invited included gentlemen of the press who have traveled long distances to get the "low down" on the erstwhile Manassas mauler's true condition. The expected assassination of sparboxers did not occur. At the end of the workout Dempsey was examined by physicians and pronounced 100 per cent normal.

Mrs. Leo P. Flynn, wife of Dempsey's manager, had joined the camp today to supervise the challenger's cooking. From now until he enters the ring, Dempsey will eat nothing that has not been closely inspected by Mrs. Flynn. On her arrival, Mrs. Flynn was presented with a $9,000 diamond bracelet, a gift from the ex-champ.

Sale of tickets is said to be progressing favorably. The usual slump that follows the first release has caused a lull, but business is expected to boom starting Monday. It's like Christmas shopping, says Tex Rickard, some people put it off to the last minute.

Rumors of friction between managers and fighters at both camps will not down, despite persistent denials by all concerned. Conditions have reached such a pass at the Tunney camp, it is said, that Gene and Billy Gibson do not even pretend to be on good terms. It is reported on good authority that this present bout will be an end of both combinations of fighters and managers.

An unscheduled preliminary, involving Jack Sharkey, here to represent an eastern newspaper, and Chuck Wiggins, a Tunney sparbox, threatened for a time yesterday at Tunney's Lake Villa camp. Wiggins' failure to locate Sharkey was the only hitch. Sharkey is said to have made derogatory remarks about Wiggins as the latter boxed with Tunney. At the end of the session Chuck went gunning for Sharkey, but the latter had departed. An old feud is said to exist between the two.

AT SAN FRANCISCO:—Joe Silver won a technical knockout over John Priston in the fourth round of a scheduled ten round bout. Dynamite Murphy outpointed Patsy Sweeney, (4)

PEER OF SLUGGERS

It looks as though the batting championship of the National league is going to be a trophy over which the Waner family may gloat all winter because Paul, one of the Waner boys, has the big edge now on all National batsmen.

Young Waner, a star, though he has been in the big league a very, very short time, has been clouting the ball for an average that hovers about .390 and at this writing was some 20 points ahead of his nearest rival, Rogers Hornsby, of New York.

The youthful right fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates has also been playing an excellent game in the field this season and his work has been one of the big aids in keeping the Pirates up in the chase.

Waner is one of the most dependable players in the big leagues. He has been on the firing line all summer for the Buccaneers and has played in more games than any of the other leaders among the circuit's batsmen.

Lloyd Waner, Paul's brother and fellow outfielder who cavorts in center garden for the Bucs, was recently taken out of the game when he hurt his finger and the great Waner and Wanner combination of the Pirates was temporarily broken up. However, Lloyd has returned to the lineup again.

A pennant for the Pirates would be in a great measure due to the good work this summer of the Waner boys, especially Paul and his bat.

Identity of Referee Is Still Puzzle

By Davis J. Walsh.
CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Billy Gibson was advised today to withdraw his or whose man, if any, Gene Tunney, from the heavyweight championship occasion on the night of September 22 unless the Illinois boxing commission apprised Brother Will of the identity of the official referee of the event not later than Monday. The advice was offered free, gratis and for absolutely nothing, as has been the case since time quite without memorial.

Nevertheless, notwithstanding and for all of that, it was possible today that Tunney, displeased in case the Illinois commission refused to make a fair catch on the 30-yard line, might withdraw himself from the further proceedings. I said it was a possibility, I didn't mean a probability.

Yes, Just Watch Him.
A man usually withdraws from a guarantee of one million cool dollars with all the alacrity of a man with drawing from his winter underwear in February.

It can't be done, either in the case of Tunney or the man but, nevertheless and just the same, the advice was in and Gib, the man in the middle, would like to get open. Anyhow, he is supposed to go before the commission on Monday in a high dudgeon, which is something far more effective than a low dudgeon, and demand that his man know, privately and strictly sub rosa, just who is to pass judgment upon him and his boy friend, Dempsey, on the night of the big fight, or maybe it was fight; one will forget.

Out of a score or more of applicants for the position, only three seem to be in the field at this time. They are George Lytton, a local business man and amateur referee; Ed Purdy, New York official, now said to have legal residence here, and Dave Miller, pre-bout favorite these many years.

Who'll It Be?
I don't like any of them, in case that means anything. I would like a different type of referee in these three. Miller and Purdy lack decision. As to Lytton, a member of the California commission, Charles F. Traut, himself a former amateur, desires the use of such an official claiming that an amateur referee is disposed to depend too much on his judges and that he lacks the experience of working with fighters, who may try to sneak over a punch on the break. Anyhow, according to Traut, any amateur referee, including Lytton, doesn't belong in the same ring with Dempsey and Tunney.

Who does? Maybe nobody. These young men possibly are in a class by themselves. So was Ponzi. Anyhow it will be difficult to pick a suitable referee with the rather inadequate list of candidates at the disposal of the commission.

Such a Tough Grind!
Meanwhile, the noble gladiators are going about their fading duties at a great pace. Both worked long and arduously yesterday, at least four rounds each. That makes how many for the week? Ask Adolphus; my lack's turned.

But Rickard's isn't at least when a cash customer appears at the door, which is every once in a while. Most of the sharpshooters seemed to think that Rickard has picked up a carpet tack in his bare foot. But Rickard alleges that he feels virtually no pain. His story is that Dempsey and Firpo drew $1,187,000 in New York and that his gate here will come closer to trebling this than doubling it.

Mr. Rickard, right or wrong, talks a very good game of pool.

Sherwood Is 4-1 Victor in Brief Clash

While a number of extra inning contests have been played in the Community League this season, the Golden Stars and the Sherwood Cardinals last night turned in the shortest performance of the campaign, as Sherwood aggregation copping a 4 to 1 decision in three innings, sufficient to legalize the victory under regulations of the circuit.

Sherwood counted twice in the first inning and added a couple more in the second. The Stars scored their only run in the third. Justice gave the Dairymen a single hit.

Vincent Richards, top, and Howard Kinsey, entered in the professional tennis tournament at New York. It is the first money meet the court game has ever seen.

BEGIN MATCHES FOR POLO TITLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Play in the open polo championship tournament begins today with a match at Meadow Brook between the Eastcott four and the British Army-in-India team. Two members of the British international quartet, which lost to America, will play with the latter aggregation.

The other five teams will play next week.

Babe Likes White Sox Pitching; May Slap More Homers

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Babe Ruth may make considerable headway in his home run campaign today when the Yankees play a double-header with Chicago. That the Babe dotes on White Sox pitching was demonstrated yesterday when he walloped his fifty-third homer of the season, bringing him to within three of his 1921 record.

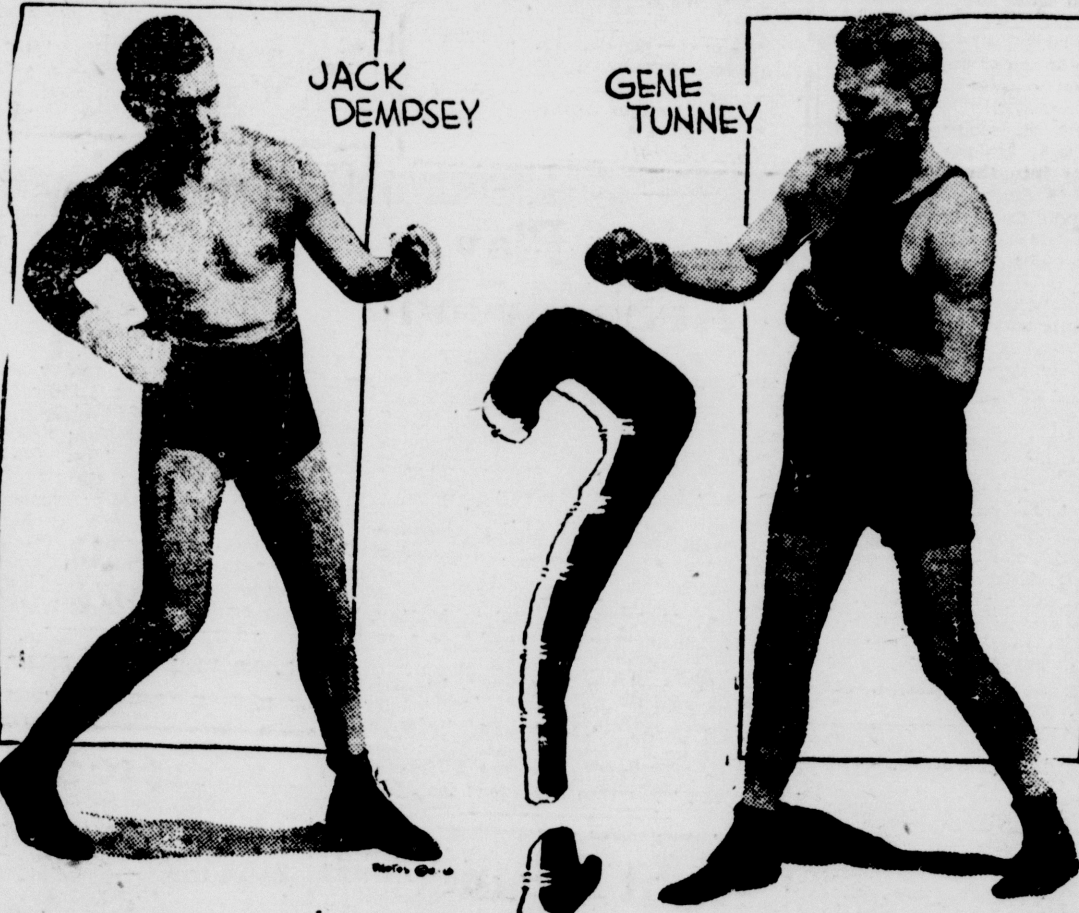

Ruth needs seven more homers to set a new mark. He is eight ahead of Buster Gehrig, who had to be content with a double yesterday.

Favor French Star to Keep Tennis Title

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Rene La Coste, of France, and Big Bill Tilden, of Philadelphia and the U. S. A., will meet for the American lawn tennis championship here this afternoon. La Coste is the defending champion, while Tilden held the title from 1920 until last year when Henri Cochet, another Frenchman, eliminated him in one of the early rounds.

Tilden earned the right to play in the finals by defeating Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, his Davis cup doubles partner, yesterday in a hard fought match in which Tilden did not stand forth as invincible. In fact it was just an ordinary Tilden who beat Hunter, 14-12, 6-1, 4-6, 9-7, in a wearing four set match. La Coste, on the other hand, played a game that fairly sparkled with brilliance to defeat little Bill Johnston, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Judging from their play yesterday and La Coste's four set net victory over Big Bill in the first round of the Davis cup matches last week, there is every indication that La Coste will have little trouble in retaining his crown.

RUNS THREE LEAGUES

Mentioned as Ban's Successor

MR. W. G. BRAMHAM, who makes a business of being president of baseball leagues, may add another to his string—the American league, itself.

Bramham is now president of three minor leagues, an honor no man has probably been able to boast before. He is "it" as far as the South Atlantic association, the Piedmont and Virginia leagues are concerned.

Bramham bears a startling physical resemblance to Ban Johnson, outgoing president of the American league, whom he may succeed.

There has been a great deal of gossip in baseball's inner circles to the effect that Bramham is being considered for the junior big league post, President E. S. Barnard of the Cleveland club and several others have also been mentioned as possibilities.

Bramham's capable handling of the three leagues now under his jurisdiction has stamped him as a very good baseball executive, a man who might prove just the leader the American league is seeking.

Bramham has a strong following among the big boys of baseball and is said to be looked upon with favor by Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball, who unquestionably will have something to say regarding the man selected to fill Johnson's office.

Anyway, with three southern leagues at his beck and call, Bramham can be sure of the vote of the "solid south."

HE LOOKS AS IF HE OUGHT TO BE PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

Gene Nursing Eye Injured In Workout

TUNNEY'S TRAINING CAMP, LAKE VILLIA, Ill., Sept. 17.—Gene Tunney was under strict orders today to do nothing more than nurse a badly inflamed right eye which was injured yesterday in his workout with Jackie Williams, Chicago heavyweight.

The champion's sparring exhibition was called off late yesterday after he had received a nocked eye from Williams' thumb while they were in a clinch in the first round.

This was the second injury Tunney has suffered in the same place. Two Chicago oculists were summoned to examine the injured optic. They reported there was slight danger of serious consequences as no abrasion occurred. The eye was discolored today.

Gene arose late, dispensing with his usual work and came down to breakfast in high spirits. Any eleven-hour carous which may have hung heavy on the shoulders of the former champions about to defend their titles, are alien to Tunney.

This afternoon he planned to go for a drive. His last sparring exhibition before he steps into the ring against Jack Dempsey in Seldies' Field Sept. 22 is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, providing his eye is all right. After that the camp will be closed to the public.

According to present plans, Tunney will break camp here on Wednesday, spending Wednesday night and the hours before the fight Thursday secluded in the home of a Chicago friend. The address is kept a dark secret.

One Chicago gambler came out yesterday to watch the champion work out and appeared disgusted. He raised his voice to offer $5,000, 5 to 7 odds that Dempsey would win. Tunney's camp followers covered the money within fifteen minutes.

Autos to Play At Sherwood

Keeping in top shape for their pending series with the Chester Superior Cord Tires which will be an event following the City Industrial League series, the Turk Nash baseball club will clash with the Sherwood Cardinals of the Community League tomorrow afternoon on the Sherwood diamond. The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

The Cardinals are leading the second half race in the Community circuit to date with eight victories and two defeats. In all likelihood, Digman, former Laughlin hurler, may twirl against the City leaguers.

Manager John Fowler has asked all Turk Nash players to report at the Sherwood diamond at 2:30.

Coach Gordon Locke expressed a desire to get away to a flying start, and, as most of the W. ## Harrison's Letter submitted to the states a series of amendments embodying a bill of rights. North Carolina joined the Union November 21, 1789, Rhode Island did not ratify until May of the following year, and then only because congress threatened adverse commercial legislation.

Ratification by the doubtful states was brought about largely because the alternative was, as stated at the time, "the Constitution or dissolution." John Quincy Adams said that "the Constitution was extorted by grinding necessity from a reluctant people."

Of the 55 framers of the Constitution all but 12 had had experience in the Continental congress. Five were governors or ex-governors of their respective states. Seven were or had been judges.

Of the 55, 32 were men of 40 years of age or under. Madison was but 37. Only five of them could be classed as old men and they were all about 60 years. Franklin, the dean of the convention, who was 82. Washington was in his fifty-second year.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. Emaline Beaver, who departed this life, four years ago today, September 17th, 1923.

Dear Mother rest, thy work is o'er,
Thy loving hands shall toil no more;
No more thy gentle eyes shall weep,
Rest dear Mother, gently sleep.
Yes we miss her, oh we miss her
When we see her vacant chair,
And how sad our home, without her
For there is no Mother there.
She is gone but not forgotten,
Never shall her memory fade.
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
'Round the grave where she is laid.
Gone dear Mother, gone forever,
How oft we miss your smiling face.
But you have left all to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
Gone from our home, God hath called thee,
Death's icy fingers rest upon thee now,
Our fond gaze lingers on thy pallid brow,
Gone to the tomb, while we are weeping
O'er the hallowed ground.
Thou art but sleeping
Till the trumpet shall sound.
The happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left the loneliness
This world can never fill.
Four years have past, since we saw
our mother last,
But her memory is as dear today
As the hour she passed away.
Do not ask us if we miss her!
Our aching hearts can tell
Of the grief we bear in silence
For the one we loved so well.
The midnight stars are gleaming
On a lone and silent grave,
Beneath sleeps one we loved, but could not save.
Her weary hours, her days of pain,
Has found sweet rest at last.
Now the ocean rolls between us,
Still the music of her voice;
In the sunlight of her presence
We shall never more rejoice.
But the Master brings his promise
To our lonely aching hearts,
They who love each other truly
Even death can never part.
Shall the claim of death cause us to grieve
And make our courage faint and fall?
The Master says that our dear lost rose
Still is growing beyond the wall.
So from winter unto winter
We shall ever think of thee,
And each fleeting, changing season
Still dearer you shall be,
For the snow mound in the graveyard
Draws our aching hearts to thee.
MRS. JOHN LISK.
MRS. GEO. WATKINS.

CAPPO REVUE HEADS
PROGRAM AT CERAMIC

Dancing and Music Offered With Bebe Daniels and Gertrude Ederle Picture, "Swim, Girl, Swim."

The Cappel revue, featuring a delightful version of Spanish and other European dancing, as well as violin, piano and cello musical numbers, is the stage feature to be presented in conjunction with the screen production, "Swim, Girl, Swim," co-starring Bebe Daniels and Gertrude Ederle, English channel conqueror, at the Ceramic theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The vaudeville offering comes to East Liverpool after a successful tour of the Balaban and Katz theatres. Advance reports have it that the "Swim, Girl, Swim" production is the best Miss Daniels has ever made and if facts mean anything, the reports cannot be exaggerated. "The Campus Fling" was a knockout, but critics agree that "Swim, Girl, Swim" has it topped.

Here are the facts. In the first place the story was written by Lloyd Corrigan who knows everything about how a college story should be written with color, romance, thrills and laughs. It was directed by Clarence Badger and this man has never been known to miss.

It has a star particularly suited for just this sort of thing—fast moving comedy—and the cast is hand picked. James Hall, Gertrude Ederle—yes, the famous Trudy of English channel fame, is in the cast—Josephine Dunn, William Austin and James Mack are only a few of the names.

The story is about a girl who swims the channel and yet who is unable to swim. And that is a situation. There are races and chases galore, just one event after another. And, just to be sure that the college atmosphere was really there, Miss Daniels selected the University of California in Los Angeles for the location of the campus scenes. More than 200 students participate in the production.

"Swim, Girl, Swim" is the first picture Trudy has ever appeared in. Her role is a good one and she is seen as a player and also in her customary role of a swimmer.

SEARCH WARRANT
RULING FILED

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17. — That search warrants in liquor cases prosecuted under Ohio laws shall be issued by the clerk of a common pleas court "as a matter of right," after the proper affidavit has been filed with the clerk, is a ruling announced this afternoon by Attorney General Edward C. Turner.

In an opinion, given to Prosecuting Attorney Harry B. Reese, Jackson, Turner ruled that issuance of such a warrant is "only a ministerial act." The attorney general held, also, that the common pleas court clerk has authority to administer the oath in connection with filing of affidavits charging violation of Ohio's dry laws. Requesting a ruling, Prosecutor

Reese told Turner that since the recent U. S. supreme court ruling depriving justices of the peace and mayors of jurisdiction of cases arising under the Crabbie act (Ohio's dry statutes), all of these cases in Jackson county have come before the common pleas court of that county. Reese said the question arose in his mind as to who is the proper person before whom the affidavits in such cases should be made.

Its Super-Six motor is the most powerful stock car motor per cubic inch displacement in the world, developing more than 2½ times the power its size ordinarily rates it. It converts waste heat to power and gives an economy in fuel and oil that is astounding.

But owners also increasingly appreciate its great qualities of everyday service—the added comfort, roominess, riding ease and easy driving—the reliability and simplicity of maintenance, which are possible only because of Essex unity construction.

Every part is designed, and built in true balance with every other part. Clutch, transmission, axles and frame are specially engineered to make a perfect unit. This gives compactness. Yet it also adds 15% to the length of the body without extending beyond the rear axle—a great advantage in safety and riding comfort.

This unity of construction assures added advantage in every particular of performance, reliability, comfort, safety and economy.
